Frank Burrows's Daughter Found Entrance to One House Effected by Him in the Cellar With His Throat Cut.

In the early morning hours yesterday Frank Burrows, a blacksmith, employed eral robberies which occurred Saturday by the Missouri Pacific Raliroad, and living night. Several houses were broken into and at No. 3139 La Salle street, drew a razor across his throat. When his 10-year-old thefts were reported. daughter Alice went to the cellar at 6:20 to get the breakfast dishes she found him lead, his hand still clutching the horn tracted the attention of the neighbors. Patrolman Leonard J. Murphy of the Third District was summoned, and he had the body conveyed to the morgue. Later an undertaker took charge of it. The family can assign no cause for the suicide, but neighbors state that Mr. Burrows had been in poor health of late, and this, with the sickress of his wife, is thought to have been the cause.

Mr. Burrows gave medicine at 6:40 a. m. to his wife, who for some weeks has been dangerously ill. Then, instead of taking his accustomed seat by her bedside to watch through the rest of the right, he went into the kitchen, and for a few mo-ments was heard moving about there. Then he descended to the cellar. Mrs. Burrows dropped to sleep, and was not awakened until she heard the frightened cries of her daughter, Alice.

During the sickness of her mother the housework had been thrown on the shoulders of Alice, and yesterday morning about 520 she went to the cellar to get the dishes necessary for the morning meal. Going to the front part of the cellar, her foot touched something soft and warm. She started back with a cry of fear. For a second she stood still, and then, with renewed courage, stepped forward. In the dim light that was cast into the basement she was able to distinguish the body of her father, lying near the wall, his face turned toward her and a faint crimson stream flowing from a deep cut in his throat. With a cry that was heard in her mother's room and in neighbors' houses she ran from the cellar, housework had been thrown on the shouleighbors' houses she ran from the cellar was heard in her mother's room and in neighbors' houses she ran from the cellar, trembling with fear.

Mrs. Burrows tried to rise from her bed when she heard her child cry out, but sank back with pain as Alice ran to her bedside, and, sinking down beside it, told her tale. Neighbors summoned Patrolman Murphy of the Third District, and the body was conveyed to the morgue.

Mr. Burrows wrs 29 years old, and had been employed at the Missouri Pacific shops. He was a blacksmith, and until recently had been able to do all the work required of him. His family state that he has never missed a day at the shops. Since his wife became sick a month ago, however, he has shown signs of weakness. The nervous strain attendant upon constantly waiting on his wife, combined with long hours of watching beside her, is thought to have undermined his health.

The Coroner will hold on inquest this morning, and the funeral will take place on the arrival of a brother who lives in Colorado.

CRAWFISH HUNTING FORBIDDEN IN PARK.

With Millions of the Ugly Fellows Trade With the Far East is $120, in the Waters, Lads Will Not Be Permitted to Cast Nets.

Thousands of crawfish in the lakes and streams of Forest Park are causing Park Commissioner Ridgely almost as much trouble as habitual theft, but irresponsible pleasure-seekers, of flowers and plants from gardens and lawns. Judging by the myriads of fish already caught and carried away there must be at least a million more of them in the waters.

Employes have been ordered to prevent further crawfishing, and small boys here-after detected in the act of plying nets will be confronted by a condition and not a theory. Mr. Ridgely has no desire to curtall the small boy's vacation sport, nor is he particularly desirous to promote the propagation of crawfish.

If he knew how to get rid of a million or so of the vicious-looking animals, with-out running the risk of having plants on the lakesides destroyed, he would do so. But between involuntary depredations, for which sportive lads are more or less responsible, and the presence of more crawfish than are and the presence of more crawish than are wanted, he is in a strange predicament, Almost anywhere along the River des Peres a piece of liver will balt hundreds of crawiish. From the lakes boys drag them out, in nets, by the hundreds. Up to a few out, in nets, by the hundreds. Up to a few days ago it was an ordinary spectacle to see lads lined along the bank of the stream catching as many grawfish as they could conveniently take home.

Three lads caught several hundred yesterday afternoon in the lake near the Wabash right-of-way. It is said that parties have made "crawfish hunting" a daily occupation for weeks, catching as many as 3,00, and sometimes more, each afternoon. The waters are thick with crawfish.

The latest reports of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics show an increase in the exports to nearly every division of Asla during the ten months ending with April, while to South America. they show a decrease in the exports to nearly every division.

To the Dutch East Indies the figures show an increase of from $1,491,142 in the ten months of 1901 to $1,683,185 in the ten months of the present fiscal year; to Hong-Kong, from $6,306.703 to $7,396,270; to Japan, from $15,118,532 to $18,981,250 and to China from $7,423,343 to $20,163,123. To China our exports for the full fiscal year seem likely to exceed those of any preceding year, and to Japan they will exceed those of any previous year, except 1900, which was ex-ceptional because of the large purchase of cotton made in the United States in that year by the Japanese market.

Our exports to China, which in 1892 were $5,693,497, seem likely to be nearly or quite $25,090,000 in 1892. To the Dutch East Indies they were $1,272,035 in 1892 and in 1992 will be about $2,000,000. To the Russian possessions in Asia our exports in 1882 were $150,250 and those of 1992 will considerably exceed a million dollars. To all of Asia our exports in 1882 were $15,250,350, and in 1892 they will aggregate about $66,000,000. To Oceania the actual growth in our exports is not so readily perceptible because of the fact that the figures of exports to Oceania no longer include our shipments to the Hawalian Islands, which are now considered as domestic trade with domestic territory. Comparing 1892 with 1993, however, there is a marked growth in the shipments to all of those sections of Oceania now included in the statements of foreign commerce. To British Australasia our exports were, in 1892 $11,256,567 and in 1992 will be about $20,000,000. To the Philippine Islands our exports in 1892 were $60,514 and in 1892 will be about $5,000,000. The total exports to Oceania in Islands; in 1892 the total to Oceania, exclusive of the Hawalian Islands will be about $5,000,000, making our total exports to Qeania, including the Hawalian Islands about $55,000,000, making our total exports to Qeania, including the Hawalian Islands about $55,000,000, making our total exports to Qeania, including the Hawalian Islands about $55,000,000 in the best figures obtainable by the Bureau of Statistics, amount to about $20,000,000, making our total exports to Qeania, including the Hawalian Islands about $55,000,000 including t

BETTER ZINC AND LEAD MARKET Building of New Smelters Creates

Large Demand for Ore.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Joplin, Mo., June 22.-The total value of $4.172,575, passing the four million dollar mark three weeks ahead of last year, and with an increase in the zinc sales of only 2.226 tons and a decrease of 622 tons of lead.

Zinc values have been advanced over last year's prices. Lead is not as high, but is advancing. Lead is not as high, but is advancing. With one more week to round out the first half of the year and a strong demand for both ores the outlook is that the district value will exceed nine million and perhaps reach ten million dollars this year.

The latest news from the smelter strike situation is to the effect that the furnaces are being started with new men and the strikers are losing out. The strike at the Edgar Zinc Company's Cherryvale works closed down temporarily a majority of the furnaces, but it is now reported that a majority are again in operation. The strike did not cause the Edgar Company to let up in the least in its purchase of zinc ore, and it was one of the heaviest buyers the past week.

did not cause the Edgar Company to let up in the least in its purchase of zinc ore, and it was one of the heaviest buyers the past week.

The New Jerzey Zinc Company's recent purchases of smelters in the natural gas territory of Kansas is supplemented by reports that the company will expend a milion dollars in a smelting works at Beaumont. Tex., to smelt zinc ore with oil fuel. The acquisition of smelters in Kansas, with the improvements under way, will place the New Jersey Company alongside of the argest producers of spelter in the West as it is the largest ore producer in the East. While no outline of future effort has been declosed, every action points to the supposition that the company is slowly assuming a position from which it can dominate has entire metal market of the United States as it has for years dominated the zinc white or oxide branch of the industry. That it does not intend to diminish its control of that line is further indicated by the rumor that the oxide interests of the Renfrow Oxide Company is now under option, which will give the company a new hold on this commodity by supplying the ore cheaply and gain for it the method of utilizing Southern anthracite coal in reduction. Then the company is expending large sums in perfecting the separation of Colorado zinc ore from the iron and other minerals carried, in order to produce either a pure oxide or metal.

While the New Jersey Zinc Company is buying up a number of the lesser gas smelters, the Lanyon Brothers, sons of Josian Lanyon, head of the ore purchasing department of the Lanyon Zinc Company, are busily engaged in the erection of a new smelter at Neodesha, Kas., for which they already have a buyer in the ore field securing an advance stock of ore. Thus the capacity for the consumption of Jopin zinc ore is expanding.

During the past week lead advanced 1.50 per ton, closing the week's purchases. The highest pirce paid for zinc was $35 per the largest part of the week's purchases.

FUSION AGITATES NEBRASKA Democratic and Populist State

Conventions Meet To-Morrow. Grand Island, Neb., June 22.-The Demoeratic and Populist State conventions will be held in this city Tuesday, and already the question whether fusion on a State the question whether fusion on a State ticket will be accomplished is a topic of earnest discussion on both sides. Several party leaders hope to effect a combination of nominations and platforms that will be acceptable to the Fusionists, and argue that this course is the only one by which the election of the ticket is possible.

The question whether William J. Bryan will accept the nomination for Governor is one on which perhaps, depends the possibility of a combination ticket. Little doubt is expressed that, if Mr. Bryan permits his name to be used, the rest will be easily accomplished. Former Senator William V. Allen will go to the convention with the expressed intention of securing Mr. Bryan's nomination.

With Mr. Bryan eliminated from the possibilities it is hard to predict the action of the two conventions, but many believe there will be few tickets in the field. There will be a dozen candidates, many of whom have already secured indorsements by county conventions.
